This six-hour Academy session will focus on values-based leadership, including aligning our personal values with our goals, objectives, and leadership style. Too often we find ourselves in conflict with our jobs, our supervisors or our subordinates, without really understanding why. This exciting and interactive session will create opportunities for self-reflection on our values, what drives us to get out of bed in the morning, what we are passionate about, and will help align those values with our work as Municipal Clerks. Recognizing the Clerk is, at the core, a servant leader, this session will help focus the purpose of municipal service in order to connect that purpose with our core values, helping us to live a more Authentic Life.

Once we begin to live an Authentic Life, Authentic Leadership always follows. Authentic Leadership springs from knowing who we are as individuals and aligning our work with those certain truths that we all hold dear, even if we're not aware of them.

After attending this one-day academy session, you will be able to:

- Understand that connecting personal values and motivations to the choices made in our personal and professional lives is critical to success
- Discover that creating a stronger path forward for yourself in this profession strengthens your abilities to increase contributions to your agency, yourself and your community.
- Connect to what truly matters to you, thereby creating the opportunity to see your authentic/true self
- Map out specific actions to develop your authentic leadership
