ABOUT THE BOOK

Leadership is not about titles, status, and wielding power. A leader is anyone who takes responsibility for recognizing the potential in people and ideas, and has the courage to develop that potential.

When we dare to lead, we don't pretend to have the right answers; we stay curious and ask the right questions. We don't see power as finite and hoard it; we know that power becomes infinite when we share it with others. We don't avoid difficult conversations and situations; we lean into vulnerability when its necessary to do good work.

In this book, Brown uses research, stories, and examples to answer these questions in the no-BS style that millions of readers have come to expect and love.
